

Adult Situations

Phillip Mills

I turned on the T. V. and We set - tle our squab - bles us - ing
The vil - lain is stu - pid; the So I turn off the T. V.; I've what did I see? A sign on the screen with a gun - tot - ing goons. For dra - ma, we sub - sti - tute he - ro's pos - sessed The ro - man - tic in - trest's al - no con - fi - dence I'll see peo - ple with pur - pose, whose warn - ing for me: You may be of - fend - ed; you close - ups of wounds, Ex - plo - sions, and flash, and e - read - y un - dressed. It's a plot that you last saw two ac - tions make sense. I ex - am - ine the guide to find may be out - raged, Our pro - duc - er is twelve and he's lec - tron - ic toys; And noth - ing's as fun - ny as ho - urs a - go, But it was - n't these act - ors and it some - thing ma - ture.... Mon - sters in - vad - ing? I'll act - ing his age. A - dult sit - u - a - tions:

bod - i - ly noise.
was - n't this show.
watch that. For sure!

F C G7 C F

Cra-zed teen - aged zom - bies are eat - ing our brains. A - dult

C F C G7

sit - u - a - tions: Gro - tesque, ju - ven - ile and most - ly the

C G7 F 4 F C F

A - dult sit - u - a - tions: A - li - en same.

C G7 C F C

swamp squid are munch - ing our feet A - dult sit - u - a - tions:

F C G7 C G7 F

Gro - tesque, juv - en - ile and, oh damn, a re - peat.

C

March, 2006